

ALL THE SHIPS BELONG TO YOU

worksheet 2

There's an ancient story about a man with an illness that made him believe that all the cargo ships going in and out of a port belonged to him. He would spend his days at the harbor and greet his ships happily when they came into port. When he was cured of his illness, he would tell people the story of how happy his life was when he was a shipping magnate. All pleasure and no pain.

Use this frame to sketch your wildest ideas.

